TIGER Tracking IN Bardiya Natoinal Park

Discovering the Wonders of Bardiya National Park: Tracking Tigers Ethically Nestled in the heart of Nepal, Bardiya National Park stands as a sanctuary for diverse wildlife, including the elusive and majestic Bengal tigers

ELEPHANT SAFARI

The elephant is the world's largest land mammal and also one of the most intelligent, so it is a wonderful experience to ride one in its natural environment. Elephants take you to those regions of the park, which are inaccessible on foot and can bring you very close to large mammals, such as rhinos, without disturbing them. The longer you spend on elephant back, the better your chances of observing animals, so on a 2-3 hour ride, you are virtually guaranteed to discover wildlife at close hand.

JUNGLE WALK

Bardia national park is one of the most diverse in Nepal for flora and fauna and a walk in the jungle here is one of the best ways to experience it first hand. Our leisurely, guided, 3-5 hour walk begins in the cool, early morning, as this is the best time to view wildlife. It may be extended to longer, for those who wish. Remember that this is not a zoo, so seeing animals will depend upon the time of year you visit, the weather and your luck. Of course, the experience of our guides will greatly increase your chances of seeing animal
